PRICE THREE CENTS

VOLUME XI, NUMBER 49

WORLD'S SERIES TO START TODAY

Berwyn to Appear on Local Field in First Pennant
Game.

ARE TWILIGHT CHAMPS

The first game in the three which will be played between Narberth and Berwyn for the championship of the Main Line Baseball League, will take place in Narberth Saturday. The borough clan won the second half title last week and Berwyn copped the crown during the first half.

The second game of the play-off series will be played Saturday a week at Berwyn, and the third contest, if necessary, will be at Narberth the following week. Rain this afternoon would move up the schedule one week.

Manager Bill Crowell and his cohorts administered defeat to Berwyn in both the games that they clashed during the second half. Narberth secured the championship last year when it defeated Bala-Cynwyd in the play-off.

The contest this afternoon is scheduled for 3.15 and a record attendance is being provided for in this local world's series.

In the only Main Line League game played Saturday Narberth closed the second half by lacing Berwyn, 11 to 3. Berwyn won the first half of the race, and the two teams will start their championship series of three games at Narberth today.

Narberth did all their scoring in two innings. In the second it scored three runs, and in the fourth 8. Redmond started on the mound for Berwyn, but was relieved by Doyle in the fourth. Heavy hitting was responsible for Narberth's eight runs in that inning. Jefferies, the former Princeton captain, clouting a home run with the bases loaded.

Higgins, with three singles, and Paist, with a double and a home run, led in the battling for Berwyn, while Dorsaneo and Higgins' defensive playing was also a feature. For Narberth, Jefferies, with three hits, and the fielding of Dickie and George Fleck featured.

On Monday morning Narberth gave Bala-Cynwyd a jolt when they trimmed them 10-2. Yocum, a Narberth boy, pitched for Fred Walzer and was hit for 14 safeties. Masters was on the mound for Bill Crowell and only allowed six scattered hits. Masters and Townsend were the big stickers with three each out of four times at bat. Masters also proved himself a good fielder, when he had four tries without a miss. Babb and Turner also played a good fielding game.

On Monday afternoon Narberth won the championship of the Main Line Twilight League, when it defeated Auto Car, 2-1, in a pitchers' battle between Townsend and Griffin. Auto Car out-hit Narberth 6 to 5 but Townsend's four-bagger, with one on in the second, was enough to win

COUNTY TAX WARNING

You county taxes must be paid by September 15 to avoid the levying of a fine. The bills sent out by Tax Collector Raymond C. Jones for county taxes do not state that fact. Many residents have gathered from this that the county levy is due on October 1 with local taxes. The county bills, however, must be paid by next Tuesday.

AUTOMOBILE

To Be Sold for the Sum of One Thin Dime.

Our neighbors are pretty well agreed that Narberth is a good place in which to live, that the cost of living is low, the climate and surroundings delightful, train service good, etc., but if the news ever becomes general that a beautiful automobile can be had for one thin dime, this Main Line town will bloom like a Florida subdivision. It's true though.

On and after September 26 there will be a bright and shiny new model Ford car seen on the avenues of Narberth or parked in front of the station waiting for the 5.15, and the proud owner will be wondering how he or she made their dime go so far.

Take heed and get your ticket now for the grand drawing of the Narberth Tennis Association held on the second and concluding night of the fourth annual country fair, held on the tennis club grounds September 25 and 26. The first prize is a brand new 1926 model Ford touring car—one of those good-looking new ones. If no one has offered you a ticket, ask for it. You can't afford to be without one.

A LONG TRIP

Local Boys Traveled 10,000 Miles in Flivver.

A Ford car, brilliantly painted with red and yellow, and covered with the dust of half the States in the U. S. A., has returned to Narberth.

The two travelers, Robert Scheirer and Fred H. Hurd, of Narberth, returned home from their long jaunt last week. Brown as the well-known berry, unshaven and unshorn, yet the young men looked in the pink of condition.

They left Narberth on June 17, and during the past two and one-half months have traveled nearly 10,000 miles, camping at night by the roadside, wherever fancy struck them. In the long trip to the Pacific Coast and back the boys report only about 150 miles of bad roads.

Changes at Presbyterian Church.

The Presbyterians of Narberth will worship Sunday morning in the new gymnasium of their enlarged church as the main auditorium of the church and the Sunday school room adjoining will then be in process of change. The plans show a great enlargement for their auditorium which will increase the seating capacity materially. The basement seats about 300 people. Workmen are this week sand-papering the floor and moving in benches for the temporary use of the congregation.

The prayer meeting services Wednesday evening took on a reminiscent character, those present giving experiences of blessing received there. Mr. Beatty said that of the 750 people received into the church during the 15 years ministry of Mr. Van Ness nearly all had made their confession of faith and been admitted into the communion in this prayer meeting room.

SCALDED BY TAR

Helen Burgess, eight-year-old daughter of William Burgess, 220 Sabine avenue, was painfully burned last Friday by hot tar.

A valve stuck in one of the tank wagons used in surfacing the new street, and the super-heated liquid sprayed out over the pavement.

The little girl was severely burned about the legs, and was taken to the Bryn Mawr Hospital, where it was found her injuries while painful were not serious.

Issued 300 Shares.

The Lower Merion Building and Loan Association met on Tuesday evening and issued the forty-fifth series in which 300 shares were subscribed. The receipts of the meeting were $32,000.

SCHOOL WORKING ON SOCCER TEAM

Coach Oerlein Loses Many
Last Year Stars by

PLAN HARD SCHEDULE

With a schedule much heavier than ever and the first game October 2, Narberth Junior High School soccer team will have to work overtime to make a good showing. Virtually a new team will have to be built up, graduation having cut into the big team of last year.

Coach Oerlein has several players from last year around which to fashion a team. Young at left outside and Caldwell, left inside seem to be assured of their places. Some of the promising candidates for berths on the team are Lane, Thomas, Vallette and Sigel, these players having had some experience on last year's team.

Considerable time will be spent on pass plays and goal kicking.

The weak passing of last year's team accounted for several lost games and it is the object of Coach Oerlein to bolster up this department of the game by hard drilling. The team will be outfitted this fall with entirely new soccer outfits and a flashy team in appearance as well as in play is hoped for.

While the schedule is not yet entirely completed, a hard program is ahead for the team. Several of the large city junior high school teams are to be played and Lower Merion will again be on the schedule. Several other games with schools along the Main Line are pending.

It is the hope of the Athletic Association of the school that the town folk take a more sincere interest in the team and be on hand for the home games played on the school grounds.

Here's hoping the team has a successful season.

Y. M. C. A. RESIDENCE HALL

A delightful residence hall primarily for professional men and women was opened this week by the Main Line Y. M. C. A. in the large stone house now occupying the site for the new association building to be erected at Anderson and Montgomery avenues, Ardmore.

The Y. M. C. A. residence hall has double and single rooms for 25 people. There are four bath rooms. The interior has been freshly painted in white throughout. New furniture, new furnishings, new beds and bedding have been purchased and installed throughout.

Mrs. Mary I. Supplee, formerly of Bryn Mawr, will take charge of the residence hall under the direct supervision of W. M. Danner, Jr.

SABINE AVENUE OPENED

The first part of Narberth's $100,000 street paving project was finished last week when Sabine avenue was opened to traffic from Essex avenue to Montgomery.

This block was rushed to completion, in order that the road would be finished before the opening of school. Excavation has been completed on several other streets, and paving will shortly follow.

The next patch to be completed will be Woodbine avenue from Essex to Narberth.

Roberts Estate One of Many in County Seized After British Evacuation

Large Part of Lower Merion Holdings Saved by Widow in Appeal to Supreme Court

Many transfers of land in what is now Montgomery county took place following the retirement of the British from the vicinity of Philadelphia. British sympathizers, or "Tories" as they were known, were penalized for their allegiance to the cause of the king by the victorious Revolutionists. Many were arrested, and some were consequently hanged. The property of others were confiscated and sold.

Vigorous efforts were made to hunt down all who had actively espoused the cause of the enemy during the time of the Pennsylvania campaign. Their real estate and personal belongings were seized and sold, and some who

Tuesday's Primaries to Decide Candidates for Borough Office

Burgess, Tax Collector, Auditor, Justice of Peace, Four Councilmen and Two School Directors to Be Chosen.

Next Tuesday the men and women of Narberth will drop in at their neighborhood polling places for the purpose of selecting some new cogs for the machinery of government.

According to the county figures, there are 1056 women eligible to vote, and but 953 men. Of the total, 2009 have declared their affiliation with the Republican party and 329 with the Democratic. The second district leads in the number of voters.

The task facing the voters Tuesday is the selection of a Burgess, four Councilmen, two members of the School Board, an Auditor, a Justice of the Peace and sundry election officials.

Three candidates are without opposition. Henry A. Frye is the only Republican aspirant for Burgess, and has no Democratic opponent in sight. The same applies to Howard C. Fritsch for Justice of the Peace. F. Richard Gifford has a through ticket on both sides for Auditor.

There are contests for all the other offices. Mrs. Abbie W. Nickerson, Edwin P. Dold and William J. Kirkpatrick are out for Tax Collector on both tickets. Political wisecracks believe that the split in the men's vote will nearly insure Mrs. Nickerson's nomination.

There are four vacancies in Council, and only one of the expiring members is in the ring for a return passage. Daniel Leitch, member of the present body, is assured of re-election. It is also felt that the candidacy of Robert Fellows Wood, of Forrest avenue, will be successful. Mr. Wood's work in behalf of street paving has brought his name forward prominently for many months.

Prognostications are not so easy for the other two vacancies. There are five other candidates, each with a following. These are John R. Hall, of Sabine avenue; A. E. Wohlert, of Narbrook Park; Clarence Kaerber, of Chestnut avenue; A. Jules Betus, of Merion avenue, and H. L. Woehling, of Woodside avenue.

Of the two expiring members of the School Board, one seeks re-election. He is Jesse S. Harris, of Merion avenue. A former member of the board, Hervey C. Keim, of Dudley avenue, is a candidate, and two new names are presented: Mrs. F. T. Van Auker, of Chestnut avenue, and Dr. Walter Steckbeck, of Wayne avenue. As is the case in the Tax Collector contest, the women's vote will probably line up behind Mrs. Van Auker, making her nomination almost a certainty, while the other vacancy is anybody's fight.

It is safe to say, however, that this primary election finds less factional and personal bitterness than any contest in recent years. There has arisen in the Borough a profound respect for the responsibilities and work involved in public office and candidates are in the field from a desire to serve, rather than from the urge to "get" somebody.

The loss of the president of

BEGIN FOOTBALL DRILLS FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

Texas Stars and Two Veterans Report Unexpectedly.

That Albert C. Adams, new football coach at Lower Merion High School, is out in earnest to maintain the Maroon and White record for championship eleven was demonstrated this week. No sooner had school opened on Tuesday than Mentor Adams issued a call for candidates.

Eighty responded and a light workout was held Tuesday afternoon. It was followed by others on Wednesday and Thursday. First scrimmage will be held next week.

A number of veterans showed up for drill, among them Al Odiorne and Lou Mandes, neither of whom expected to return last spring. The Miller brothers, who hail from Texas, where they played on the State championship scholastic team, also reported.

Among last year's regulars back were noted Captain Gene Keun, tackle; Bob Leitch, tackle; Jim Faulk, end; Eg Morris, fullback; Tuby Fort, Joe Rusischon, half, and Wilbur, guard. More men are expected next week when late arrivals from the shore and mountains will appear on the scene again.

Lower Merion's first five games will be played on home terrain. The first contest will be with Berwyn High on September 26.

DR. FARIES ENLARGES NARBERTH MEDICAL OFFICE

Opened Suite of Rooms With Assistant Physician This Week.

Dr. Clarence T. Faries, Narberth's oldest practicing physician, opened this week his enlarged offices at Narberth and Windsor avenues. The alterations have been under way for several months.

The former office and waiting room has been converted into a waiting room and secretary's room. A larger room has been remodeled into a new office adjoining the other rooms, with bath and laboratory facilities.

A newcomer in Narberth's medical fraternity will act as associate to Dr. Faries. He is Dr. C. W. White, a graduate of Jefferson Medical College. He has had extensive hospital training at the Presbyterian and Municipal Hospitals and is on the staff of the Presbyterian Hospital at the present time.

In addition to the offices of the two physicians, another large room is being prepared for Dr. Harry Hartley, dentist, who hopes to occupy his new quarters later in the year.

Dr. and Mrs. Faries, with their son, Jack, returned last week from a tour of the West and are occupying their new home on Sabine avenue, near Wynnewood. Dr. and Mrs. White have taken apartments over the suite of offices.

Vacation plans and office hours have been arranged between the two doctors so that there will be a physician at that address at all times. Dr. Faries will hold his hours from 9 to 10 A. M. and from 7 to 9 P. M., excepting Wednesday and Saturday. Dr. White's hours will be 8 to 9 A. M., 2 to 3 and 7 to 8 P. M.

LARGER QUARTERS

"Ye Oddity Shoppe" plans to move Monday into their new large store over their present location at 104 Forrest avenue. Their shop is now in the basement of that building.

The expansion of their business comes after a successful first year in the old store. For the present they will keep both floors.

The shop was founded and is run by Mrs. Mary S. R. Nash and Mrs. Naomi Lacey. The wide selection of gifts they have assembled has brought them customers from all parts of the Main Line in addition to a growing business in Narberth.

ORCHESTRA PLANS FOR A NEW SEASON

Subscriptions Now Open for Series of Four Concerts in Ardmore.

FIRST CONCERT NOV. 15

The first rehearsal of the Main Line Orchestra will take place on Thursday evening, September 17, at the parish house of St. Mary's Church, Ardmore avenue, Ardmore, Pa.

This rehearsal will mark the opening of the fourth season for this organization. Three years ago this fall the first rehearsal was held, the orchestra at that time being made up of seventeen players, Mr. Adolph Vogel conducting. The end of the first season saw the orchestra increased to thirty members with two concerts having been given. Since that time the personnel has increased to over fifty players, giving four concerts each season at the Ardmore Theatre before crowded audiences.

It has been interesting to note the development of these performances in musicianship and rendition of the programs. Director Vogel has continually given the orchestra work of a higher caliber, so now the first part of each program consists of works which are heard on many symphony programs. Mr. Vogel wishing to appeal to the entire public at these concerts has made it a practice to have the latter half made up of works of a lighter vein.

At each concert a movement of a classic symphonic work has been produced. This in itself has been a big accomplishment, and critics from Philadelphia have been unanimous in their praise of the rendition of these works, no small task for an amateur orchestra.

The aim of the Main Line Orchestra Association has always been to have the orchestra for the people of the Main Line. Its policy has been to choose exceptional talent for soloists at the concerts, these musicians to be residents of the Main Line. The Association has always adhered to this policy, and in doing this has not only given the public an opportunity of hearing exceptional talent, but has also given these musicians the most unusual chance of an orchestral accompaniment to their solos. It is all too seldom the worthy artist has this chance.

There are vacancies for string players. There are many amateur violinists along the Main Line who should be prevailed upon to join the orchestra. The rehearsals are for two hours one evening each week.

The Main Line Orchestra Association needs more subscribers for the continued support of the organization; anyone may subscribe for a year. This entitles them to four tickets for each of the four concerts. Those wishing to subscribe should send their names and addresses to P. O. Box 603, Ardmore, Pa., and the secretary will forward blank. The first concert for this season will be held November 15, at the Ardmore Theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Lamorelle have returned from a vacation in Eaglesmere.

WILLOW ROOTS

The offending willow trees on Conway avenue, whose roots blocked the sewer along that street, have been cut down, but the matter of destroying the roots was a problem until A. E. Wohlert, Narberth nurseryman, made this suggestion, which is passed on:

It is suggested that after the sewers are cleaned and the willows removed, each householder, at about 10 or 12 o'clock at night should pour a quart of creosote into his sewer system to kill the roots.

To keep the stumps from surviving, a hole should be bored in, and a quantity of creosote poured in. This, Mr. Wohlert believes, will kill the stump and roots completely.

IN WHICH WE OBJECT

The editor of the Chambersburg Public Spirit is probably a tall, genial, big-hearted man; respected by his fellow-citizens and kind to his family.

But we can picture him only as a flat-chested, grouchy individual who owns a flivver—one of those persons who spends all of Saturday and half of Sunday polishing his car, and then waddles along in the middle of the highways on a Sunday afternoon at 10 miles an hour.

He cannot be otherwise, for, under the title "Hop-hikers" he wrote, or permitted to be published, the following editorial in his paper recently:

If in a 10-minute walk downtown one were hailed by seven sets of bums and asked for 25 or 50 cents, and if one were snorted at or openly cursed when one refused the asked for alms, one would likely call the police. And one would be justified.

And yet one afternoon last week, in a 10-minute ride on the Lincoln Highway, between Chambersburg and the three-mile post, we were importuned by seven different groups of roads bums. All asked for a lift, and three of them got ugly about it, when we paid no attention to the waving arms and pointing fingers. We didn't call the police, for we know that thus far the police have no program that covers this rapidly increasing problem.

The State Motor Federation recently, in sounding a warning of the danger of taking up these road bums, called them hop-hikers. That is a good make-up of a word. The bums profess to be hikers and yet their main ambition is to hop on to some car for a lift.

Shut your eyes, dear reader, and visualize some pink-cheeked high school lad, in knickers, carrying a blanket in a roll on his back, foully assaulting this good samaritan who risked his life to give the wayfarer a lift.

Perhaps the "bum" is the son of an editor every bit as respectable as the editor who protests at being importuned for a lift. Perhaps the wretched hobo is himself an editor—as is the writer of this editorial, be it stated with pride.

Misguided writers in all parts of the country have amused themselves recently by publishing columns against the "hitch-hikers," ascribing to them all sorts of evil designs against the kind motorist. Yet 25 years ago, many of these grizzle-headed grouches would have enjoyed a lift from a passing buggy, and the driver of the old grey mare would not have searched the walking youth for a blackjack.

In the city streets, the urchins begging lifts about town are unmitigated pests, for they crowd into traffic where to pick them up would be a dangerous undertaking. But out on the country roads, where a driver has an opportunity to give his prospective guest the "once-over" before stopping, there is little reason for refusing the courtesy if there is room in the car.

Hundreds, thousands of high school and college boys have traveled over the entire country by this method, seeing sights and having experiences they otherwise could not afford. Scores from our own Main Line towns, from the finest families, are inveterate "hitchers."

Snap out of it, you crabbed newspaper writers. Pass by the walking youth if you feel that your tender lives are in danger but leave it to your fellow man to choose whom he shall grant the boon of a lift along the way.

Your Pets and Mine

By Dr. Raymon M. Staley, Veterinary, of Narberth, Pa.

WHEN TABBY GOES INTO A SULK

Not all persons, even among those who are particularly fond of animals, fully appreciate, or understand, that quiet companion of our fireside, the good faithful old family cat.

We hold no brief for the common back-fence, or alley, variety of cat, further than to say that they are more to be pitied than censured. If they had been given proper care and attention when they were young they would not be leading a life of strife and blood curdling, sleep disturbing yowls.

The cat we wish to talk about is the quiet, dignified, constant companion who purrs and blinks and nods on our hearth. The companion who shares our joys and sorrows in a silent, comfort-giving understanding sort of way.

This boon companion is more responsive to our every mood, when in good health, but is absolutely oblivious of our most kind efforts when ill. The Sphinx-like attitude of a sick cat makes the already sufficiently difficult task of establishing a diagnosis an almost impossible procedure. It requires the best efforts and the special training of the qualified veterinarian to arrive at a correct diagnosis and to prescribe an effective treatment.

Probably the most serious diseases, or conditions, to be combated in cats are those due to, or associated with, intestinal disorders.

Cats, when removed from their accustomed surroundings, almost invariably become seriously ill, and for many years it was thought that this illness, with its attending high rate of mortality, was due to fright, grief, climatic conditions, close confinement or some other condition equally as wide of the mark.

We now know that these animals are so sensitive to changes in their surroundings, and usual mode of living, that a sudden or decided change is quite sufficient to cause serious trouble. For instance, it has been learned that a cat, deprived of the free life of a farm or one whose home has been changed from a quiet house, where only adults live, to one where there are children and more or less noise and excitement, is very apt to become inactive, refusing to take any exercise. This sedentary life leads to constipation and this in turn is followed, in a surprisingly short time, by the absorption of poisonous materials and bacteria from the intestinal track.

When Tabby shows a disposition to give a correct imitation of a perfectly respectable Sphinx, is constipated, goes through the motions of swallowing without having anything in her mouth, and vomits—she is indeed "as sick as a cat." Call your veterinarian before it is too late.

CARNEY FRETFUL OVER REEMS OF PUBLICITY

Joe Copeland Then Maintains Secret and Discreet Silence.

Magistrate Edward Carney, militant campaigner against all sorts of things in his South Philadelphia bailiwick, where he is seeking reelection, got himself reems of publicity in the daily papers this week when he ran afoul of the Lower Merion police. But he didn't seem to appreciate it much.

The trouble all started when Milton Rosenbaum, of Millbourne, a friend of Carney's, was arrested in Cynwyd with a party of six friends early Monday morning and charged by Police Sergeant Wilson with parking without lights and being under the influence of liquor. Rosenbaum's friends departed declaring that they would have him freed within the hour.

Early in the morning they appeared with Magistrate Carney, who demanded this and demanded that. Was refused, hurt and fretful. Followed a hearing, then near fisticuffs with Squire Fred Walzer, of Narberth, who attended. Next came charges of all kinds and a declaration that warrants for the arrest of President William A. L. Barker, of the township commission; Lieutenant Mullin, Deskman Mullin and Sergeant Wilson would be asked. All this consumed several days and much good front-page publicity.

On the second day, after the hearing was held, Magistrate Carney drove out of Ardmore amid the mixed cheers and jeers of a crowd of several hundred curious. He was accompanied by newspaper men. Reaching the outskirts of the town Squire Carney frowned and told them that he would like to meet the scribe who first pumped that fisticuff yarn into the front page of blase dailies. It was at this point that Joe Copeland, demon Main Line newshound, maintained a discreet and diplomatic silence.

ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY

both the School Board and Council at the same time will make the elections of more than ordinary interest. The re-organization of these two bodies will have to take into consideration the new blood, and a complete re-alignment of officerships and committees is certain.

A public meeting to hear the candidates is being held this Friday night, too late for a report in this issue. Together with the statements from candidates published in "Our Town," this meeting will give the aspirants an opportunity to express their views and make themselves known.

Two of the candidates were out of town last week when the call was sent out for statements in the paper. They have responded since that time, and their letters are published below, together with a communication from Mr. Augustus J. Loos in behalf of two of the candidates. Mr. Loos, one of Narberth's oldest residents and long a civic leader, is a former secretary of the School Board:

Mr. Frye's Statement.

Since I prefer to be judged by actions rather than words, my platform is brief:

1. To carry on to the best of my ability the sincere and efficient efforts of our present Burgess.
2. To administer and enforce all laws and ordinances of the Borough as fully and faithfully as my powers will permit.
3. To welcome constructive criticism and exercise my own best judgment in carrying it out, keeping in mind the greatest good for the greatest number.

HENRY A. FRYE.

Dr. Steckbeck's Statement.

In response to requests from a number of Narberth citizens and school patrons I agreed to become an "eleventh hour" candidate for the important office of School Director.

There is no special platform that I want to state. As a resident of Narberth for ten years, as a patron of the schools and as a teacher of a number of years' experience—from the "little red school house," through the grammar and high schools to the University—I am vitally interested in education. As a citizen of Narberth I want to see our school system attain and maintain a position in education second to none in districts of similar grade. The best that can be developed under existing conditions is none too good when it comes to education. If the voters of Narberth feel that I can be of aid in the administration of our school system, I shall be glad to devote the time, thought and effort which I know this office requires of its incumbents. If the verdict is adverse I shall continue my interest in the schools.

WALTER STECKBECK.

Mr. Loos' Letter.

Being deeply interested in the welfare of our public schools from the educational standpoint, and as a taxpayer from the financial standpoint, I take pleasure in endorsing and recommending for the careful consideration of every voter Messrs. Jesse S. Harris and Hervey C. Keim.

Ever since Mr. Harris' coming to Narberth I have been closely associated with him in other lines of activity, and have been impressed by the fact that he is thoroughly dependable and strictly attentive to any business that is in his hands. I have carefully read Mr. Harris' letter in "Our Town" of September 5 relative to the duties of a School Director, and know that he lives up to the ideal therein sketched. He has the right conception of the duties of a public officer, namely, that service, without consideration of honor or profit, is the great essential. His service of a year and a half has given him the needed experience.

My own experience as Secretary of the School Board for several years, at the time of building the first extension of the original building, gave me a realizing sense of the amount of time and energy required of members of the Board. That Mr. Harris should be willing to continue on the Board is a matter of congratulation to all who realize the importance of having the right man in the right place.

It may be recalled that when Mr. Hervey C. Keim was a candidate for membership on the School Board about two years ago, I strongly endorsed his candidacy, for the reason that he has cator, and is a certified public accountant as well. These qualifications fit him pre-eminently for a place on the board. I have known Mr. Keim since he first made his home in Narberth, and know that he has high ideals concerning the duties of a public official.

Voters may depend on it that both of these gentlemen will be punctual and regular in attendance on all meetings of the Directors and devote their best abilities to the promotion of the interests of our schools, if elected.

A. J. LOOS.

New Bank for Haverford.

Application has been made to the State for a charter for the proposed Haverford Township Title & Trust Company. The application was signed by 12 business men, 10 of whom reside in Haverford township, and has been already investigated by the State Examiner who, it is understood, has made a favorable recommendation.

The new bank is to be located at the corner of Mill and Darby roads, Brookline, and it will be easily accessible to 12,000 of Haverford township's 16,000 population.

OUTDOOR GIRLS ARE "OUT"

Eleven new copies of the "Outdoor Girls" series were placed on the library shelves of the junior department last week and within a few days not a copy could be found in the library. These 11 books were the gift of May de Booy, of 237 Forrest avenue, herself an outdoor girl of 11 summers. Instead of feeling dismayed that the books were called for so promptly everyone, including May herself, expressed delight that there seemed to be such a demand for reading material among the children and for these books particularly. Not all of the gifts are given quite so spontaneous a reception, but it is certain that all books placed on the shelves sooner or later supply a serious need. Another collection of books added to the junior department this week was the gift of Mrs. Arthur Compton, of Elmwood avenue. Among these books are several of the Bunny Brown series and The Five Little Peppers. These will be placed on the shelves this coming week to the delight of the younger visitors of the library.

The adult section came in for its share of attention also, when about 100 hundred books were received from Mrs. B. De Haven Harter, of Baird road, a group including fiction, history and standard textbooks. Nearly as many volumes, mostly the much-needed collections of poetry, were given by Mrs. F. Gilkeson, of Rockland road, while Mrs. Joseph Hongler, one of the library assistants, and Miss Pardoe, of Grayling avenue, also made contributions to the library.

The typewriter in that end of the library room, known as the "office," serves not only to add a professional aspect to that section, but aids in much of the clerical work which is carried on there, of which this publicity is a part. For this gift the library is indebted to Mr. E. A. Muschamp, one of the board of trustees of the Library Association.

A week when the library makes acknowledgment of gifts is a happy one for those who work in the library. It seems to mean that the community is appreciative of the work that has been done and is glad to help in whatever ways it can. Some of the work connected with the library has very many discouragements, but with a stimulus such as these last few days have supplied it takes a fresh impetus.

$5 Bogus Notes Out.

Notices of circulation of two counterfeit $5 notes has been received by the Treasurer of the Federal Reserve Bank. One is a United States note, the other a Federal Reserve note. The former is a series of 1907, check letter C, portrait of Jackson. The Federal Reserve note is on the Federal Reserve Bank, Chicago, check letter D, portrait of Lincoln. We aren't interested a-tall. Now if these were one dollar Williams—well, one occasionally comes up and gets into circulation, but we don't want them.
